FOREWORD

This year's EOS was designed as a token for the graduating senior. Since it is to the annual which he will turn to remember the activities and thrilling events of college, we have tried to provide him with a lasting record of his life and those of his friends among the students and faculty.

Dr. John Schoff Millis

DEDICATION

With his inauguration, January 7, 1950, Dr. John Schoff Millis formally assumed the presidency of Western Reserve University. He succeeded Dr. Winfred G. Leutner to become the university's ninth president.

Dr. Millis brought with him a lifetime of experience in teaching and scholastic administration. He graduated from the University of Chicago in 1924, then returned to earn his Ph.D. in the field of physics. He has held teaching positions in the University of Chicago and Lawrence College, where he served as professor of physics for seven years. During that period he also served as dean of the college. In 1941 Dr. Millis assumed the presidency of the University of Vermont and State Agricultural College, a position which he held until last year.

Dr. Millis is a member of Sigma Xi, and Kappa Phi Kappa. He holds honorary LL.D. degrees from Middlebury College, Brown University, and the University of Maine.

Coupled with his administrative experience and background in science is an equally intense interest in the humanities. Dr. Millis is a licensed lay reader and preacher of the Episcopal Church. He has served as Y.M.C.A. director, as trustee and vice president of the Vermont Symphony Orchestra Association, and as chairman of the Green Mountain Festival of the Arts. He is a member of Rotary International, the Vermont Historical Society, and the Newcomen Society of England. In his spare time he has done research for the Institute of Paper Chemistry and has written technical and educational articles for various journals.

It is to Dr. John Schoff Millis, scientist, administrator, humanitarian, that we dedicate this yearbook. May his future at Western Reserve University be as distinguished and successful as his past.

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. John Schoff Millis
President of the University

Dr. John Schoff Millis has completed his first year as president of Western Reserve University. A graduate of the University of Chicago, Dr. Millis left his position as president of the University of Vermont to succeed Dr. Leutner in September.

Dr. Millis is a member of Sigma Xi and Kappa Phi Kappa. A physics and science major, he has taught these subjects in several colleges. In addition to his teaching and administrative experience, Dr. Millis brings with him a background rich in community, state, and church activities.

The All-University Student Council, founded in 1946, is composed of two representatives from each of the schools in the university, with the presidents of the schools' student councils acting ex officio.

This semester marked the drawing up of a new constitution which is designed to further integrate the schools of the university. Budgets, calendars, and plans of the separate schools were compared and discussed, with recommendations for more efficient management given when necessary.

Songstress Patti Page and George Towne's Orchestra headlined the All-University R-Hop, sponsored by the council. It was the high point of the university activities sponsored by the group.

THE COACHING STAFF

When Bill Councell, Purdue graduate and former Shaw High School baseball coach and athletic director, came here in 1946 to assume directorship of Reserve's athletics, he had before him the difficult task of nourishing back to health a severely depleted department. Since then Reserve has, with his help in procuring a fine coaching staff, come a long way towards becoming a contending power in the Mid-America Conference.

With Coach Mike Scarry at the helm for his second season, the Reserve gridders started out their 1949 campaign with more fight and fury than local rooters had seen for many a year. The fight and the fury, however, weren't enough to carry the team through the rough schedule it faced. Following its policy of scheduling teams on Reserve's academic, if not its athletic level, the athletic committee pitted the Red Cats against such schools as Brown and Western Virginia. The final result was a four win, five loss, one tie record.

By most standards this would not be considered a successful season; but in light of the fact that the Reserve footballers were bucking big name opponents, the record proved to local critics that Western Reserve has made strides in becoming recognized as a potent football power. On the basis of the great improvement shown this season, they may soon be able to meet almost any opponent on even terms.

The spotlight was on Kent, Ohio as the Red Cats inaugurated our 1949 football season there, under the lights. Favored over Reserve, the Golden Flashes found the Cats fighting hard for their first victory, and showing great promise. Rain and a muddy field hampered the powerful attack of the revitalized Reserve eleven, but they never relinquished the lead at any time during the game. Tom Murphy's field goal proved to be the winning margin as the Red Cats chalked up victory number one for their opener, 23-20.

A snappy but helpless Olivet eleven met the Scarrymen at Shaw Stadium on a warm Saturday afternoon for the runaway game of the year. Olivet's only tally came on a brilliant 93 yard run, while the Cats scored more points in this one game, than they did in all games of 1948. Trying to keep the score within reason, Coach Scarry shifted his backfield experimently, but all combinations ended in tallies. Tired Olivet fought doggedly, but it was Reserve's day, as this non-conference game added another victory to our win column, 69-9.

Expecting a close game, Reserve's eleven journeyed to Butler and returned victors in their second Mid-America Conference tilt, 28-6. Displaying great improvement, the Red Cats averaged one touchdown per quarter and retained their eligibility as possible contenders for the conference championship.

The unbeaten Bob Cats of Ohio U and the unbeaten Red Cats of Reserve clashed in our Homecoming Day struggle. Reserve's lone tally came in the third quarter after a thrilling scoreless first half for both teams. It looked like Scarry's day, as the team held two goal-line stands in the final quarter; but in the last twenty seconds, Carroll Widdoes' boys plowed over the line for a tally. The post-game conversion tied the game, 7-7.

Dropping their third game of the season, in what was perhaps the worst showing of football here since the 1943 season, Reserve's Redcats were massacred 46-7 by the Miami Redskins. Only bright spots of the afternoon were the line bucking of Don Hura, and the continued fine running of Lenny Corbin, which brought Reserve's lone score.

Bucking the passes of squat Bronco Quarterback Norm Harris and the plaguing lack of tall defensive backs, the Cats were beaten by Western Michigan's Broncos, 21-14. Tom Cole hit Leo Spann for a 12 yard touchdown, while Herm Marolt carried the pigskin forty yards for a tally on a pass from Adrian Castilla.

Sid Gillman's Bearcats tore up the gridiron of Nippert Stadium down in the Queen City, as they entered the fourth quarter on the long end of a 21-0 score. Playing with an all out effort, the previously unbeaten Red Cats clawed back against the highly-favored Cincinnati team, and came back with two tallies. The final score, 21-13.

From the Ivy League of the East came the Brown University Bruins to play a scrappy Reserve eleven. Reserve was scored upon early in the game, but the rejuvenated Scarrymen settled down and came back with two touchdowns to tie the score. However, Brown's power on the ground proved too much; they scored again. The final score, 28-14.

After leading 13-0 in the first quarter, and gaining a hundred yards more than their opponents, the Red Cats lost a rather slipshod game to West Virginia, 28-13. In the sixth play of the game Len Corbin sprinted 21 yards for the first score; while later in that same quarter, Al Morhard flipped the pigskin to Fred Lekson for a second tally to end a 67 yard drive, and Reserve's scoring.

CASE—RESERVE

Reserve rooters smiled as they ate their Thanksgiving turkeys, with the return, after one year's absence, of victory in the 54th annual Case-Reserve encounter, 30-0! The exuberant Cats showed superiority in every department, while the Rough Riders seemed to have been severely hampered by an acute manpower shortage.

After a scoreless opening quarter, Don Hura broke through for the first Reserve score with a 75 yard run. Brilliant punting by Adrian Castilla netted our second TD, while Al Morhard hit Leo Spann with a 24 yard pass for a third tally in the third quarter. In the same quarter, Adrian Castilla's forty-yard screen pass to Len Corbin accounted for the final touchdown, though Jim Barnicle, in the last seconds of the game, spilled the bogged-down Case team's George Hildebrand for a safety.

Taking their cue from the varsity squad, the Kittens finished their two win, three loss season by drubbing Case, 14-6. The freshman squad, under Coach Lennie Brickman, offers a promising bunch of huskies to give the varsity a much needed boost in all departments next year. Outstanding players include Rush McKnight, Tom Raffa, Al Hodous, and Dick Dorland as runners and passers; and Bob Koch and Tony Ventreska as linemen.

SOCCER

Team members: Benedetto, Bernstein, Burton, Caranna, Cotter, Crick, Garapic, Gillispie, Haimes, Kahn, Katz, Kroeger, Loeb, Miller, Newman, Oldenberg, Reich, Sandel, Solganic, Sperber, Stein, Stepanski, Weitzman.

Sparked by high point men Fritz Stein, and the formidable Zolton Reich, along with Jack Newman, Bob Burton, and Al Oldenburg, Reserve's varsity soccer team ended its first season of inter-collegiate competition with two wins, three losses, and one tie.

The novice booters reached their peak as they scored almost at will to beat Case, 5-1; the only opponent greatly superior to the locals was Oberlin, which trampled the Cats twice, 5-1, and later, 9-1, to become the mythical state champions.

Exhibitions between halves at the basketball games, and three collegiate meets were among this year's highlights for Bob Grueninger's Gymnastic Team.

Early this year in a dual meet against Kent and Case, Reserve took second place. In a meet against the University YMCA, the score was tied at 57 per team. In the spring AAU District Meet, Reserve's earlier performance was repeated, as they again lost only to Kent, to take another second place.

Notable individuals on the team were Robert Marble, who set a 6 second record in the 20 foot rope climb; Milt Fader, who took two match firsts on the rings; and Frank Rocco, top tumbler and apparatus man.

Injuries and an overly ambitious schedule marked the 1949-1950 Red Cat basketball season. Only the outstanding coaching of Mike Scarry coupled with the sometimes spectacular playing of the Cats kept the season from being an absolute loss.

Jim Cochrane, senior forward and long time leader of the cagers, broke his left wrist in the initial game of the season but recuperated in time to finish the season as the third highest scorer with 213 points. Senior guards Joe Lesko, Dick Rutti, and John Kappos carried on the Red Cat attack, as they won seven, while losing seventeen. In the running, Kappos held down the number two spot with a 249 point total, while Lesko's 264 points were tops for the season. However, the record set last year by Cochrane, as he sank a total of 360 points to set an all time high here for a single season's play, went unchallenged.

Brighter rays in the otherwise dismal season came with the end of the season when announcement was made that both Cochrane and Lesko had been named to the "All-Cleveland" basketball team, while Lesko was further named to the "All-Conference" team. Also announced was that the same two had each broken the record set by Hank Lefkowitz when he scored 702 points in his three years of play for the Red Cats. Lesko, during his playing career, had scored 717 points, while Cochrane, in three years of varsity competition, had amassed a grand total of 759 points for an all time record.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Sporting an eight win, four loss record, Bill Waller's Kitten basketball team enjoyed a very successful season in which a great deal of new and latent talent came to the fore. Starring the sharpshooting of Ferguson, McAndrews, Hodous, and Gilman, the team showed a great deal of promise against local college and high school teams. It should give Red Cat rooters a great life next year when these men play varsity ball.

FENCING

Ably coached by Russel K. Weider, Reserve's 1950 Fencing Team parried not only the thrusts of their opponents, but the refusal of the Athletic Board to sponsor them. This year, having assumed the proportions of a major varsity sport, the fencers were hampered only by the lack of suitable collegiate competition, and limitations placed on them by lack of funds. Nevertheless, in a non-association meet this fall with Buffalo University, a team which otherwise enjoyed an undefeated season, Reserve won 15-12. In the NCAA National Championship Meet at Wayne University, Reserve was represented by Gus Dallas in the sabre, Ed Cernak in the epee, and Jim McClelland in the foil.

Coach Alexander Darbes

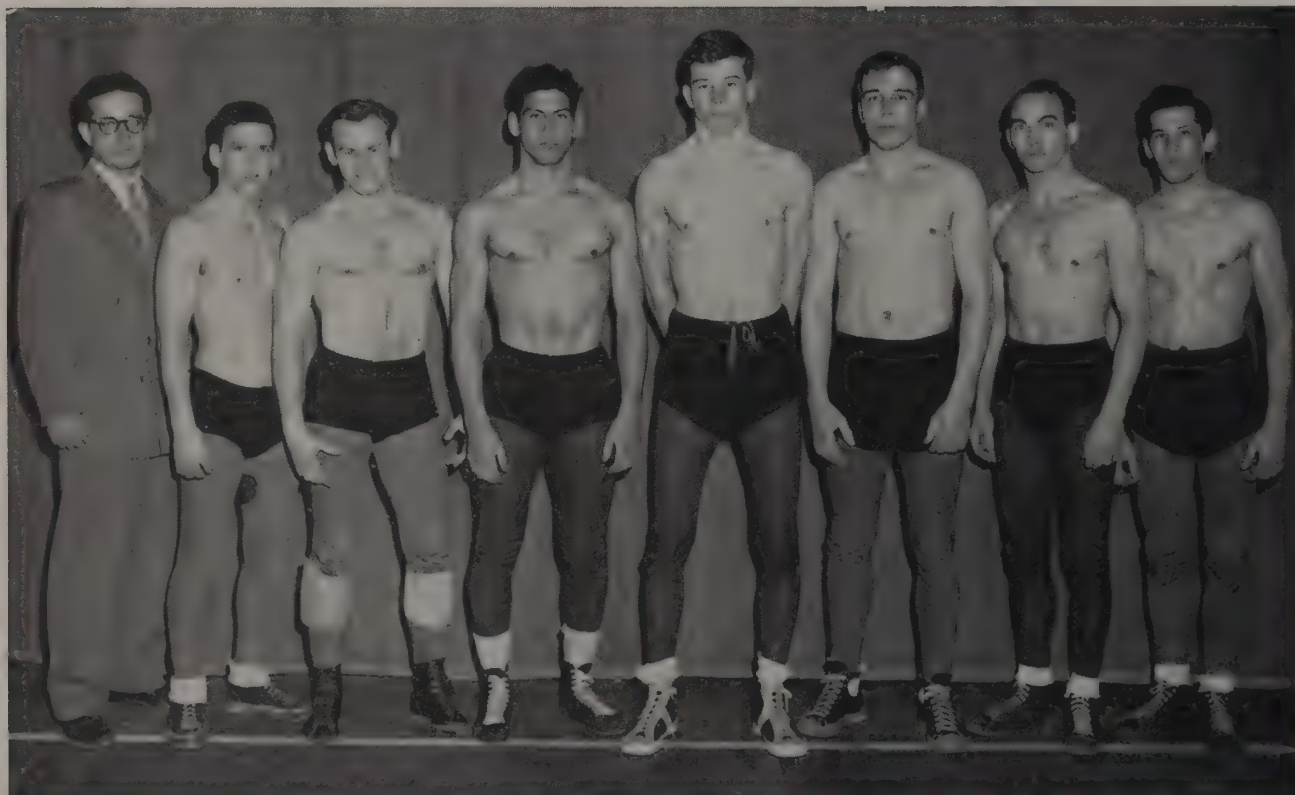

WRESTLING

Alexander Darbes, acting in the absence of coach Bill Goellner, tutored the Reserve matmen to a three win, six loss, and one tie record for the 1950 season.

The team featured heavyweight Jim Swinehart; 175 pound Dick Knittle; Glen Smeltz, last year's district AAU 136 pound title-holder, who has been wrestling at 145; Holly Broadbent at 136; Larry Patrick in the 128 pound class; Nick Casalicchio, 165 lbs.; and Tom Swiler, 155 lbs. High point man of the team was undefeated 155 pounder, Al Weizman.

TENNIS

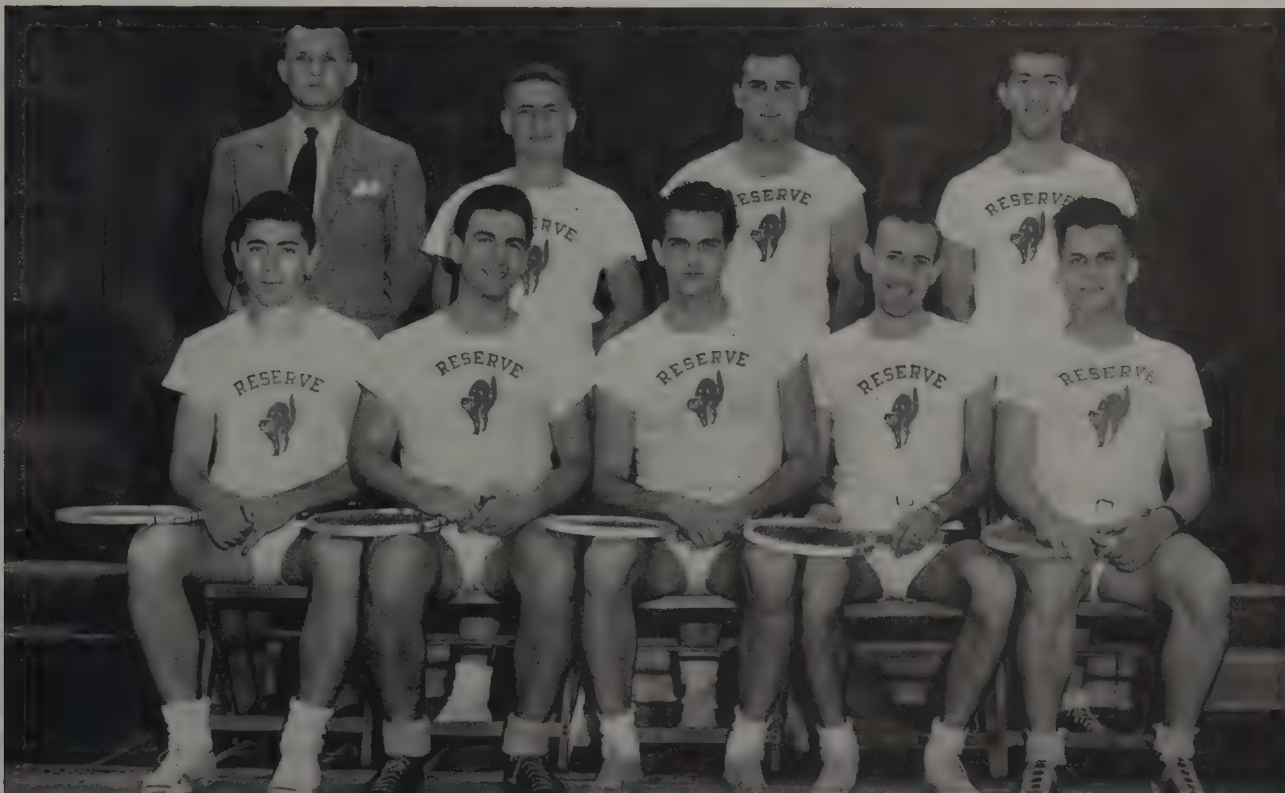

Reserve's 1949 Tennis team, with a season's record of seven matches won, and three lost, finished third in the Mid-America Conference and established the best varsity record of the year.

Advancing to the final doubles at Kalamazoo, Michigan, Lou Vosburgh went down to a 7-3 loss, giving him a 19-14 record for the season—a record equalled only by his teammate, Aaron Fine. Bob Bittikoffer and Alvin Mahrer finished with 17-10 and 16-9 tallies respectively, while Harry Parris had an 18-13, and Adrian Castilla wound up with a mark of 16-12. Most promising freshman of the year turned out to be Jerry Rouby, who won 4, and lost 2.

BASEBALL

Tagged by a dogged and consistent bad luck streak, the 1949 baseball team, coached by George Holmes, wound up their season with an unimpressive record of three wins, twelve losses, and one tie. Individuals on the team, however, received some notable recognition. They included Fred Frey and George Gheta, pitchers; and most of all, Captain Harry Westlake, who finished the season with a batting average in the 500's to win the Mid-America Conference Batting Championship.

TRACK

Despite a harrassing lack of men, Reserve's 1949 track team, under the able coaching of Herb Bee and his staff, set five new University records in their three win, three loss, and three tie season.

At the Mid-America Conference Meet, Reserve men set five additional meet records, winning places for themselves on the 1949 listing for "Best Performers in Ohio."

By developing its available skill, the team made a fine record and is well deserving of the season that they worked so hard to achieve.

REGISTRATION

A few of the 12,665 that registered at Western Reserve University in September.

FRESHMAN OUTING

The YMCA River Road Camp played host to 250 incoming freshmen the week of registration with a program that included an afternoon of sports, supper, and an evening around the campfire. It was an informal introduction to the college and men who would shape their lives for the next four years.

FRESHMAN MIXER

Cheerleaders supplied the spark; the Red Cat eleven, a victory; and the Student Council, a Freshman Mixer to make the last weekend of September the campus' first big celebration of the year.

ELECTION DAY

Phalanx and Foil and Mace clash in what proved to be their last test of power.

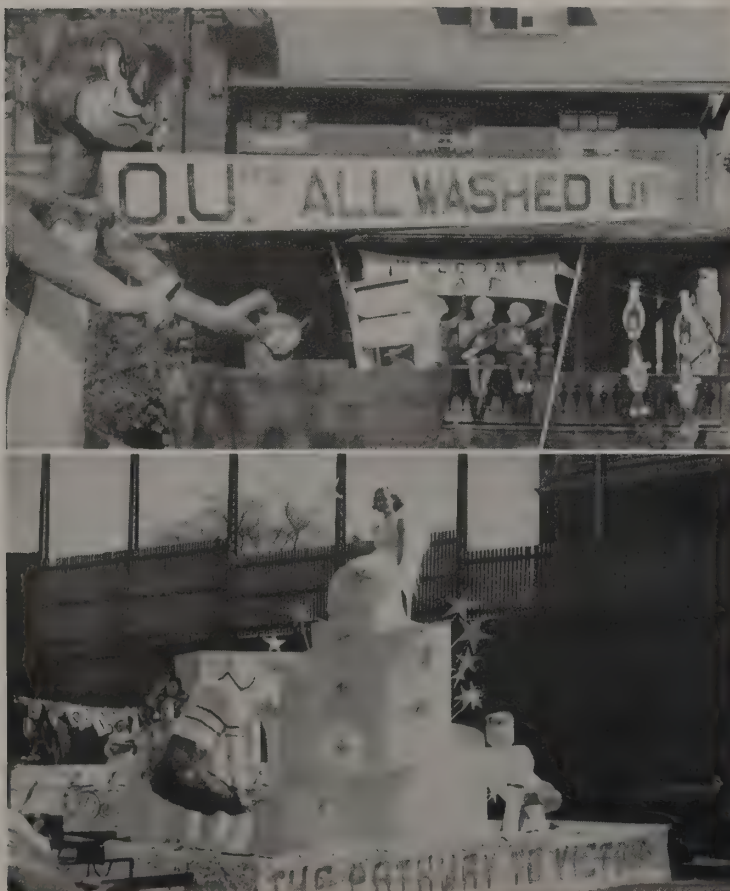

Highlight of the year's activities was the weekend of October 21 — Homecoming Weekend.

The festivities began with the dance at Adelbert gym on Friday afternoon, at which Virginia Stief, the Delta Kappa Epsilon candidate, was selected the 1949 Homecoming queen from a group of 16 candidates. Student spirit was high on Friday as Homecoming displays were judged, but it increased in the evening with the bonfire rally. Following the rally, gaiety and goodwill broke loose as alumni and students made the rounds of the fraternity open houses.

... and the Game!

Saturday afternoon, pre-game festivities began with the parade of floats from the campus to League Park. The game itself, against the Ohio University Bobcats, proved a thrilling battle that ended with a heart-breaking 7-7 tie. The climax of the week-end was the Homecoming Dance that evening. Chuck Foster's band and singer Johnny Desmond supplied the words and music for an enthusiastic crowd of students and alumni.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK

Religious Emphasis Week, Nov. 13 to Nov. 18, had as its purpose "to show our reverence and to consider our responsibility, toward God." The week drew religious and secular leaders to Reserve for services, discussions, lectures, and seminars. Highlights of the inter-faith REW were an All-University Convocation with Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, world renowned leader of Judaism, as guest speaker, and an All-University concert by Eunice Podis.

CASE - RESERVE GAME

Preluding the Case-Reserve game, ODK-Blue Key men picked Bernice Lansat, of Reserve, and Grace Doyle, representing Case, to reign over the annual tilt. Bernice Lansat, candidate of Phi Sigma Delta, was attended by Claire Landgrebe, Delta Tau Delta entry, and Jane Gattozzi, representing EOS.

Pre-game activity reached a new high this year, as Case and Reserve men staged repeated campus raids armed with red and brown paint. In a chapel rally the day before the game campus spirit rallied behind Scarry and his boys in mighty roars of "Beat Case!".

MID-YEAR GRADUATION

February first marked the graduation of Adelbert's mid year class from Severance Hall.

ALUMNI OPEN HOUSE

Adelbert played host to a large group of its alumni at the open house, March 3. In a tour of the campus, they were given a behind-the-scenes look at Eldred's productions in addition to a view of exhibits at other buildings. A dinner in the cafeteria, and reserved seats at the Reserve-Cincinnati basketball game finished the evening.

Distinguished alumni Joe Manak, David Dietz, and Louis Logsdon watch the basketball game.

GREEK WEEK

Above are scenes from the Greek Week show, Meet Miss Delphi. With music by Les Tarr, and book and lyrics by Dave Shaber, the show was unique in its casting of women for the first time in what is usually an all-male show. The show highlighted an IFC sponsored Greek Week that ran from March 27 through April 4, and featured the traditional exchange dinners and open houses.

STUDENT CONGRESS

Sixty-one all-university student organizations were represented in the ODK sponsored Student Congress, April 22. In an unprecedented all day session, official representatives of these organizations drew up two major bills of far-reaching significance for presentation to the administration. Pictured at the right and below are: Don Foster, Vivian Lamont, and Irv Gray, officers; Bob Gandel, Harvey Yasinow, Bob Carlson and Steve Paranka, ODK Steering Committee; and registration.

ALL-SPORTS NIGHT

President Millis purchases a ticket to the third edition of Reserve's All-Sports Night. This event was sponsored by the Campus Club, and featured the IM wrestling and boxing finals in addition to exhibits of badminton, gymnastics, wrestling, and juggling.

SCHOOL of MEDICINE

The School of Medicine of Western Reserve University is one of the Middle-West's finest medical training and research centers. Important discoveries have been made there, including new information on cancer research and heart disease.

Requirements for admission to the school are high; but when the young M.D. graduates, he is well prepared for his career in the field of medicine.

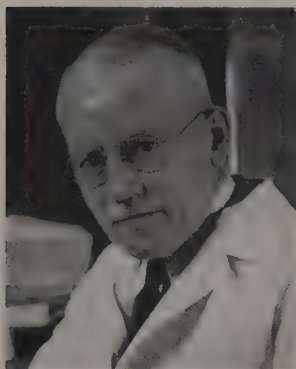

The Allen Memorial Medical Library, associated with the school, is one of the finest of its kind in the nation.

SCHOOL of DENTISTRY

The School of Dentistry of Western Reserve University is known as one of the finest dental training centers in the country. In addition to this the members of the staff are actively engaged in dental research, having centered their attention this year on the problem of tooth decay prevention.

The school also offers a free clinic of dental service to those who desire to take advantage of it. Skilled young dental students do the work.

ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT GOVERNMENTS

Advanced Nursing Student Council

The Hampton-Nutting Club's Executive Committee is made up of five elected officers. President Ruth Johnson presided at all the monthly meetings and selected the committee chairmen. These committee chairmen were: Alice Miller, chairman of the Program Committee; Lillian Zittel, in charge of the Publicity Committee; and Victoria Ross and Helen Hancock, presiding over the Arrangement Committee. The Vice-President, Betty Brown, will preside at the first meeting of next year. The Recording Secretary, Ann Kinard, maintained a list of all members of the group and recorded the minutes for each meeting. The Corresponding Secretary, Inez Salerno, carried out all the necessary correspondence. The Treasurer, Ruth Lewis, disbursed and itemized all financial transactions of the club. Beside the usual expenses, the club also contributed toward the Community Chest and purchased magazine subscriptions for the nursing library. The advisor for the club is a member of the Nursing School Faculty, Miss Ester Leihgeber.

This organization, which represents the collective voice and ears of the student body, is composed of ten members—the presidents of the four classes, and six elected representatives, consisting of three seniors, two juniors and one sophomore.

The group meets once a month to consider any problems in relation to the general welfare of the students and to study suggestions offered for the improvement of facilities for work, study, and relaxation.

The council leads the way in instilling full cooperation in the student body in support of athletics, welfare fund drives, and other worthwhile endeavors.

The Student Council of Western Reserve University School of Medicine was founded in 1945 for the purposes of governing the student body and of furthering student-faculty relations.

The membership of the council is confined to elected representatives and class officers. During its brief existence it has become an integral part of the Medical School, both in its proposed duties and in the promotion of student activities.

The organization meets once monthly, and the meetings are open to any student who has a grievance or is in need of a loan to permit completion of his medical education.

The ASSOCIATION of INTERNES and MEDICAL STUDENTS

The Association of Internes and Medical Students is now in its third year of existence at Western Reserve, having been founded December 16, 1947.

It is designed to fill the needs of the medical school students and internes, and to carry out the policies of the national organization. It deals with all aspects of the medical profession—ethical, social, humanistic, and educational.

Second Row: E. Gold, J. Petcher, W. Dillon, H. Shorr, R. Bosley, R. Nelson.
Third Row: L. Peters, E. Slote, N. Bsharah, E. Donaldson, J. Murphy, M. Weiner.

The Haman Society of the Medical School is composed of senior medical students and faculty advisers.

Informal monthly meetings featured lectures by guest speakers and discussions—all related to some aspect of the members' chosen profession, medicine.

Highpoint of the year's activities was the annual banquet, which featured a satire on Medical School, presented by the society after the banquet.

The Hampton-Nutting Club of the advanced professional students of the Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing has had a most enjoyable and inspiring year under the leadership of its adviser, Miss Leighgaber and its president, Miss Ruth Johnson. The object of the club is to promote friendship and to provide a medium for social, educational, and cultural activities among the advanced professional students. The activities for the year began in September with a novel presentation of the "Do's and Don't's" of the fashion world by a representative from the fashion center. The October meeting of the club was a Halloween Carnival with all the traditional Halloween festivities. At the November meeting a guest speaker from the Visiting Nurse Association gave an interesting account of her travels in Finland and Sweden and of a nurses' convention she attended in Sweden. The club celebrated the Christmas holidays with a party which showed the true holiday spirit. A visit from Santa Claus with his bag and gifts was the highlight of the evening. In January the 1950 graduates were entertained at a most enjoyable banquet, the head of the Speech Department of Cleveland College being an entertaining speaker for the evening.

Other social functions included a luncheon and style show at Halle's and a dinner for the students and faculty of the basic and the advanced professional groups, who not only enjoyed a delicious dinner but also a very interesting book review. Outside the monthly meetings, plays, talks, and concerts, were enjoyed by many as a result of the establishment of a recreation fund. This additional activity kept the program chairman, Miss Alice Miller, extremely busy trying to satisfy the requests of the club's 120 members for tickets to special events.

Among the other activities of the club was participation in the Community Chest Campaign and in the various all-university affairs. Subscriptions for magazines for the Nursing School Library were bought. The club was pleased to be asked, and anxious to take part in the revision of the curriculum of the Advanced Professional School. At the meeting at which the invitation was extended, the club was honored to have four guests who are very outstanding in the field of nursing present.

The club had a very active membership this year which showed enthusiasm and interest in each new venture. Other officers and chairmen who helped to make the year such a success were Misses Helen Hancock, Lillian Zeitel, Ruth Lewis, Inez Salerno, Anne Kinard, and Betty Brown.

Psi Omega, the youngest and largest dental fraternity in the world, was founded at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in the spring of 1892; Epsilon, the active chapter at Reserve, was the fifth chapter and was established in 1896. Since that time, Drs. W. J. Pryor, '10, and P. J. Aufderheide, '12, have served as supreme councilors of the National Chapter.

While devoted primarily to study, it has its social side, co-sponsoring the Dental Interfraternity Dance with the other dental fraternities, and holding an Annual Spring Formal plus monthly house parties. Psi Omega also participates actively in intramural sports and won the swimming championship last year.

Alpha Omega was founded 42 years ago at the University of Maryland as the result of the combination of two dental groups, one from Philadelphia and the other from Maryland.

Omega chapter was initiated at Western Reserve in 1924 as the unaffiliated Alpha Zeta Gamma fraternity. In 1936 Alpha Zeta Gamma became the Omega chapter of Alpha Omega.

Alpha Omega is primarily a professional fraternity designed to bring together men of similar background in order to exchange information and to advance the profession of dentistry. Omega chapter also provides opportunities for many social activities to its members, including lectures, dances, sports and outings.

The local organization at Reserve, Lambda chapter, has the largest active membership of any dental fraternity at Reserve, consisting of 70 participating members. To help the student gain the skill and knowledge necessary for dental practice, the house has a well equipped dental laboratory; and after most of the bimonthly meetings, clinics and guest speakers are presented.

Delta Sigma Delta has a social side as well. The winter formal, pledge dance, the formal senior farewell dance, the November and June banquet meetings of the graduate chapter, numerous house parties, other informal gatherings, and the co-sponsoring of the Dental Interfraternity Formal illustrate this lighter side of Delta Sigma Delta.

HONORARY DENTAL FRATERNITY

Henry LaTorraca

Berwyn Lee Owen

Omicron Kappa Upsilon

This organization is to students of dentistry what Phi Beta Kappa is to arts students.

Founded in 1914 at Northwestern University, the society has grown steadily until it now has a chapter in each of the forty dental schools of the United States. Upsilon Chapter of Western Reserve University was established at the School of Dentistry March 13, 1929.

Membership consists of four classifications—honorary, faculty, alumni, and student.

Student members are selected each year from the upper twenty-five percent of the graduating class. Half of this number are voted membership by the faculty on the basis of scholastic standing, personality, and promise of future value to the profession.

Members chosen from the class of 1949 were, Berwyn Lee Owen, Henry LaTorraca, and Jack William Weber, all of whom received the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery on June 15, 1949.

MEDICAL FRATERNITIES

Phi Rho Sigma

Kappa chapter of Phi Rho Sigma was organized in April, 1901 with a charter list of twenty-three members. Since that time approximately five hundred students have graduated from the School of Medicine as members of Phi Rho Sigma.

The fraternity has maintained a house since 1905 and has taken an active role in both the intellectual and social functions of the Medical School. Much of the national administration of the fraternity has been influenced and directed by the local Kappa Chapter.

Fourth Row: G. Smith, J. McClelland, J. Weygandt, W. Young, C. Christian, R. Palmer, H. Cehra.*

Alpha Kappa Kappa

Alpha Kappa Kappa was the third fraternity founded at Western Reserve School of Medicine and the third oldest medical fraternity in the country. In 1909 the local Alpha Xi Chapter was established.

Alpha Xi Chapter is known nationally for its adherence to study, its group conferences, and its serious attitude toward medicine and the medical profession, while not losing sight of the fact that there is both a time and place for social recreation as a relief from intellectual activity in the fields of medical theory and practice.

Phi Delta Epsilon

Upsilon Chapter of Phi Delta Epsilon was formed at Reserve in 1920 and has been in continuous existence ever since. Among the founders were Dr. M. Siegel and Dr. S. Freedlander, who are still associated with the school. Another distinguished alumnus, Dr. H. Goldblatt, only recently left the faculty; and Drs. Feil and Wolpaw still are actively interested in fraternity affairs.

Activities consist of athletic and social functions, guest speakers at the biweekly meetings, and an annual guest speaker in an open lecture.

Nu Sigma Nu

Nu Sigma Nu was founded in 1882 with the purposes of improving scholarship, developing better teaching, and raising medical education to a higher level. Sigma Chapter of Nu Sigma Nu was established at the School of Medicine in 1900, being the first medical fraternity in Cleveland. Doctors Charles Hoover, Carl Hamann, and Torald Sollmann are among the more than five hundred members graduated from, or affiliated with this fraternity. Among the more widely known members one might list Doctors Sir William Osler, William Mayo, William Welch, and Hans Zinsser.

The School of Architecture was established in 1921 and consolidated with the university in 1941. It contains an undergraduate and professional school for a carefully selected group of men and women. The degree, Bachelor of Architecture, is awarded to those who complete the 5-year combined course of liberal arts and technical studies.

Expert Supervision

The Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing offers programs for college students desiring to enter the nursing field, and also for graduate nurses wishing to prepare in special fields. Its alumnae are serving all over the world—in hospital, home, industry, clinic, office, camp, and everywhere that professional nursing care is needed. The school is named for the distinguished Cleveland Citizen and congresswoman who has not only made the development of this school possible through a generous endowment, but who also has been a staunch supporter of nurses and nursing everywhere.

The majority of students are introduced to the English department through the "100" courses, which discuss methods of composition and grammar, and some of the various forms of literature in the curriculum. The advanced courses attempt to develop literate writers and readers in the world today and to discuss with students some of the best books in English and American literature—both those of older generations and those of today.

PSYCHOLOGY

PSYCHOLOGY

Psychology attempts to add to our knowledge of man through scientific inquiry and theoretical formulation, and to benefit man by the transmission and application of this knowledge. Its methods are two-fold: to utilize the traditional theory in psychological writings and experiments, and to develop modern psychological discoveries in an effort to further the department's aims.

ECONOMICS

The general field of economics is concerned with the forces underlying such specific problems as the high cost of living, the adequacy of jobs, and the material foundations for world peace. The student who acquires sufficient insight into these economic dynamics will be prepared to understand and apply that acquired insight to the unpredictable problems of future years as they arise—the problems of 1960 as well as 1950.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

The Political Science Department was founded in 1904 as the result of an endowment by Marcus Alonzo Hanna. It is the oldest department of its kind in Ohio and ranks in seniority with the oldest in the nation. Since its founding, it has served thousands of Western Reserve students. Among its distinguished staff members have been Augustus Raymond Hatton, Raymond Moley, and Harold W. Dodds.

Dr. Long pulls a "quickie" on the unsuspecting politicians.

HISTORY

The History Department's course in "World Civilization" has the largest enrollment of all the courses at Adelbert. Sparked by the lectures of Dr. Donald G. Barnes, the course introduces budding young freshmen, and occasional upper classmen, to the origins and trends of present-day civilization. With Dr. John H. Stewart off to Europe for the spring semester, the department became a triumverate, composed of Drs. Barnes, Wittke, and Wish. The department offers an extremely wide scope of opportunities for graduate work in addition to a well-varied diet of undergraduate courses.

MATHEMATICS

The Department of Mathematics attempts to develop in the student an appreciation of the meaning, derivation, and assumptions underlying the symbols and formulas he is learning to manipulate. It is hoped that an understanding of the systematized logic of mathematics can be applied to his general thinking and to human problems.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The principal function of the Physical Education Department is to provide instruction and exercise in activities which will contribute to the physical development and organic health of the student. A three year course is required of all students. The department also conducts a broad program of intramural sports, whose objectives are to promote physical recreation, team spirit, good sportsmanship and hence, good citizenship. The program covers fields of activity from wrestling to touch football, including both individual and team sports, with leagues for independent, fraternity, and professional school men.

The Department of Chemistry is approved by the American Chemical Society for the training of professional chemists, and is one of 37 universities permitted to grant a Ph.D. in chemistry. The faculty of the department is made up of scholars who are recognized as authorities in their respective fields and who by reason of their own discoveries are able to vitalize their classroom teaching.

BIOLOGY

The Biology Department offers work in botany and zoology. Each division plans an offering to fulfill the needs of the undergraduate, the pre-professional, and the graduate student. An integral part of the Biology Department is its biological station, located at Squire Valleevue Farm, within a ten mile drive of the campus; the station offers unusual facilities for biological study in connection with the various courses.

PHYSICS

Conducting courses from the simplified program for non-science majors to the most advanced atomic research work, the Physics Department provides the stimulus for an increasing number of physics majors and for a general popular interest in physical studies. The observatory atop the Physics Building houses the telescope used for Dr. Donner's course in astronomy. The staff of the department includes four full-time members, in addition to the complement of graduate assistants.

GEOLOGY and GEOGRAPHY

The department is hoping to expand its teaching staff and course offerings in order to give an ever increasing number of majors the necessary background and training they will need for their fields in geology or geography. The department's success in placing graduates in other universities for graduate work and in professional positions has been stimulating and encouraging.

ART

ART

The Department of Art holds as its objectives the cultivation of interest in the forms of art, with a view to understanding the nature of those forms, and encouragement of the concept that artistic products are the concrete examples of the cultural development of man and an expression of his most significant experiences.

In addition, through the course, "The Arts in Modern Life," an attempt is made to correlate man's artistic instincts in the fields of visual art, music, and drama.

SOCIOLOGY

Sociologists assume the task of formulating the principles of the behavior of human beings in groups. As members of a university faculty, they try to cultivate in their students an objective, intellectual and understanding consideration of all cultures; a critical attitude toward social panaceas; and an awareness of the constance and insistence of social change.

*"Now the way

SPEECH

The Department of Speech seeks to develop those essential skills in oral communication upon which a democratic society so largely depends. Each course and each activity is directed to this end: that the student may be a clear, persuasive, and logical advocate of his own beliefs and a capable critic of the beliefs of others. To achieve these aims the department offers training in persuasion, oral interpretation, and diction.

GERMAN

Interest in the German language was emphasized last year due to the anniversary of the birth of the great German poet, Goethe. The aim of this department is to give serious students a chance to appreciate the German writers in their native tongue, and to give them a deeper insight into the English language through the understanding of a foreign one.

Crib notes VERBOTEN!

CLASSICS and ROMANCE LANGUAGES

The cultures of ancient Greece and Rome are well worth studying. Since western civilization is based squarely on them in countless ways, some knowledge of Greco-Roman antiquity is essential for a proper understanding of many cultural and social aspects of today's life.

In the same manner, an understanding of the Romance languages aids in developing a good command of English; the etymology of many English words can be traced to the countries of Southeastern Europe.

MUSIC

Undergraduate music, taught by the Music Department, is offered primarily as a field of cultural enrichment. Courses are designed to cultivate technical musicianship, instill respect for historical background, and develop aesthetic and intellectual understanding of musical art and theory.

Throughout the year the Music Department presents a series of musical events which synthesize the department's particularized contributions from a faculty of working artists, student groups, and alumni.

DRAMATIC ARTS

The major objectives of the Dramatic Arts Department are: first, to give active experience through participation in all aspects of the drama; second, to offer an opportunity to appreciate theater as an avocation; and third, to prepare students for a career in the theater in all its phases—technical, directional, and interpretational.

This involves courses in theater appreciation, acting, directing, dramatic writing, and television production and experiment. The department has had considerable success in the last category.

PHILOSOPHY

The purpose of philosophy is to discuss and analyze those persistent questions which intelligent man has asked since his earliest days. What is the meaning of life? What am I? Why am I here? Is there a God? Are there standards of right and wrong? What is beauty? What is truth? How are man's diverse interests related to one another, and in what sense do they aid in an understanding of life in general?

The Philosophy Department endeavors to help its students understand these questions and offers guidance in finding intelligent answers to each.

RELIGION

The Department of Religion answers the students' need for an understanding of the world's leading religions and for a closer examination of the spiritual factors which make up our western civilization. Any attempt at a liberal education is incomplete without a knowledge of the spiritual forces of which our culture is composed.

EDUCATION

It is the purpose of the Department of Education to provide instruction in the professional courses required by the state for certification as a teacher in the elementary and high schools of Ohio, and to advise undergraduates who are preparing to teach concerning the specific requirements for certification.

Omicron Delta Kappa

The Beta Theta Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa was founded at Reserve May 8, 1947, and now includes undergraduates from Adelbert, Architecture, and Cleveland College. It is part of a national organization of 65 chapters which has as its purpose bringing together the leaders in various college activities as well as representative members of the faculty so as to promote mutual understanding, interests, and helpfulness. It also encourages the development of well-rounded personalities through participation in all phases of college activities. It is felt this will help develop a sense of social responsibility for the man while a member of the university and later as a member of society in general.

Consideration for membership is based on the individual's character, leadership and service in college life, scholarship, fellowship, and consecration to democratic ideals. The circle initiates men twice a year—in the fall and at the spring Honors Chapel.

Last year the Beta Theta Circle sponsored the annual Thanksgiving Day Dance along with the Case chapter of Blue Key, the Adelbert Honors Chapel in the spring, and a Student Congress, which it hopes will become an annual event.

Epsilon Delta Rho is an honorary architectural fraternity whose requirements for membership are a high scholastic average, a displayed desire for closer fellowship with architectural students, and an intent to pursue a career in architecture. The chapter was founded at the School of Architecture on February 2, 1928, shortly after the school had been transferred from the Cleveland School of Art to the University Campus.

The purpose of the group is to encourage greater interest in the study of architecture and to be of service to the entire student body of the school. The fraternity annually offers prizes to those two freshmen students who have the highest standing in architectural subjects. Besides its own social affairs, the fraternity supports other school activities and also sponsors lectures by practicing architects.

Delta Sigma Rho

Founded in 1906 to give recognition to those outstanding in the field of intercollegiate debate, Delta Sigma Rho was introduced at Reserve in 1911.

For the first time in over a decade, Delta Sigma Rho has five active members on the Adelbert campus. Membership is limited to juniors and seniors who have distinguished themselves in their participation with the Reserve Rostrum; initiation is held annually. The members of Delta Sigma Rho provide the core of the varsity debate squad as well as heading the Student Management Board of the Rostrum. Sponsoring the Reserve Chapter of Delta Sigma Rho are the faculty directors of the Rostrum, Warren Guthrie, Robert Lang, and Gerald Phillips.

The National Delta Sigma Rho sponsors an annual National Debate Tournament, in which Reserve participated this year at the University of Wisconsin, and a National Student Congress held biennially. Chapters from Honolulu to Maine and Virginia participated in the Congress, which was held in Chicago last year.

Phi Beta Kappa

The Alpha of Ohio Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was founded at Western Reserve College in 1847; it is the tenth among the present 141 chapters of the Society.

Membership in the honorary scholastic society is restricted to seniors who have attained a quality point average of 2.4. The three highest-ranking students are elected at the end of their junior year.

Delta Phi Alpha, the national honorary German society, was founded at Wofford College in 1929 and has since established nearly fifty chapters in colleges and universities across the country. Membership is open to juniors and seniors who have completed the requirements needed for admission.

Although a purely academic organization, it plans social functions and regular programs. Its great aim is the spirit of German classicism, the tolerance of Lessing, the idealism of Schiller, and the noble humanity of Goethe.

EOS

This year's EOS marks another step in the trend toward the establishment of an all-university yearbook, a trend that started in 1947. At that time the Adelbert yearbook, which had suffered from the low enrollment during the war years, was expanded to include the Schools of Pharmacy and Architecture. It came out under the new banner, EOS, which is the Greek word for dawn, the name's significance drawn from the university seal. In 1948, the Francis Payne Bolton School of Nursing was added to EOS; the following year, the annual was expanded to include the Schools of Medicine and Graduate Nursing. This year progress was continued with the inclusion of the School of Dentistry.

Simplicity and balance are the underlying principles in the design of this year's EOS. In the staff's attempt to achieve this, and in their endeavor to bring forth a book which would interestingly and pleasingly denote "this way of life," they have shown unusual cooperation and initiative. For this they deserve special commendation.

TRIBUNE

Everybody at Reserve Reads the Tribune!

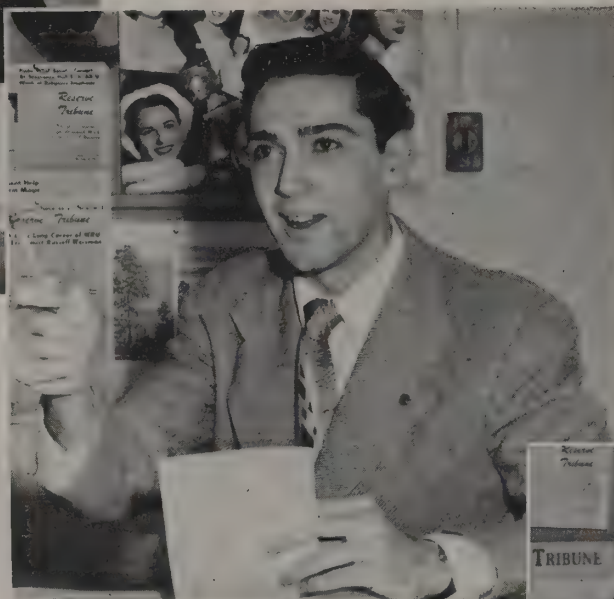

The vigorous editorial policy of the paper, coupled with excellent news coverage helped the Reserve Tribune live up to its slogan. Student interest in the paper reached a new peak this year.

The staff of thirty, under Editor Irving Gray, added new life to the campus sheet with a series of exposés. The paper also came out strongly in support of the ODK Student Congress.

New features included the "Reserve Digest" and "News in Brief". Reserve professors hit the spotlight in regular "Professor of the Week" interviews. Joe Hudson's "Brass Tacks" added a controversial note to the second page, while a "Grins and Gripes" series gave students a chance to sound off on the university.

The school year 1949-1950 brought into focus a new and revised quarterly magazine, under the able editorship of Dave Shaber.

The new policy was stated in Pulse's first publication last year:

"There is one important thing wrong with most college humor magazines:

"They aren't humorous.

"Too many college editors mistake coarse vulgarity for risqué humor.

"We are going to operate on the assumption that the student at this university has a mentality infinitely higher than that of a ten-year-old sex maniac."

Pulse last year was based on the importance of being earnest. Art, features, and stories all reflected this policy; as a result, Pulse emerged with a new personality.

The magazine's popularity received a severe test this spring with a Student Council referendum to determine whether it would be continued. Results showed the campus was definitely behind Pulse. It will continue to offer opportunities for artists, photographers, and writers interested in magazine work.

Note:

Department of more thanks than we can give . . . These thanks go to our faithful, oh so hard-working staff and contributors, without whom this magazine would never have seen the light of the Adelbert mail boxes.

ELDRED Theater Presentations

Three Men on a Horse

The Beginning of the End

Thor with Angels

The Holman and Abbot farce, Three Men On A Horse, in October teed off Eldred Theatre's five-production season of high caliber acting, directing, and producing.

The theatre honored Benjamin Franklin's birthday, Jan. 17, with the opening of Poor Richard, an original historical play on the statesman's life, written by a prominent Cleveland civic leader, Mrs. B. H. Bole. Enthusiastic reviews and sellout performances during the week's run attested to the success of the piece, under the direction of Barclay S. Leathem and his assistant, Burnett Hobgood.

W. Somerset Maugham's The Constant Wife, produced by the Eldred Players, was the February production followed by George Farquhar's English Restoration comedy, Beaux' Stratagem, in March. The latter was brilliantly directed by Walter Walters as a requirement for his doctorate of philosophy degree.

An Irish comedy, Is Life Worth Living, by Lennox Robinson, under the direction of Miss Nadine Miles closed the season with a flourish.

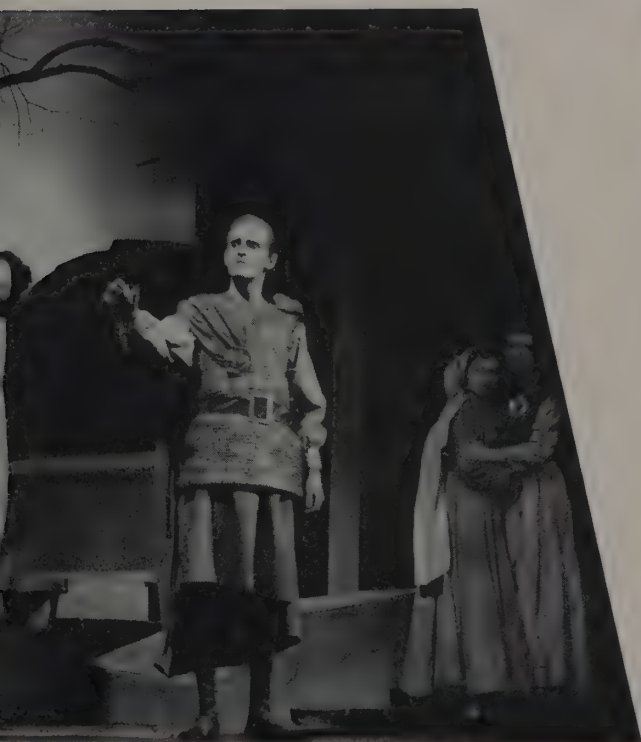

The only dramatic telecasts originating in Cleveland were produced by the University Players bi-weekly on Sunday afternoons on Station WEWS, October through April. Dickens' Christmas Carol, a 2-hour show, was the largest production of the 45 plays televised by the WRU Players. Using University students as well as players from many of the theatre groups in the Cleveland area, Eldred Theatre presented such delightful plays for televiewers as 'Op 'O Me Thumb, The Antique Ring, Box and Cox, Minuet, Riders To The Sea, and Pickwick Papers. Joan Rorimer and Rosemarie Huber, television scholarship students at Reserve, were responsible for the direction and production of the television series.

THE UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA

Contributing to the successful year of the University's music department were the outstanding performances of the Orchestra in connection with the University Opera and Bach Concert Series. Led by Dr. F. Karl Grossman, the Orchestra blended modern music with ancient in an opera performed the weekend of February 25 at Engineer's Hall. Riders to the Sea, set to music by R. Vaughn Williams, saw June Muller, Bill Jones, Phyllis Braun, and Barbara Evans in major roles; while Pergolesi's El Maestro di Musica cast starred Janet Fisher, as an aspiring young prima donna, Leonard Moss, as baritone, and Arnold Perris, impresario.

The operatic work was an interlude in a series of six All-Bach concerts played in commemoration of the two-hundredth anniversary of the death of Johann Sebastian Bach. Brandenburg concertos, operatic suites, and piano and violin selections were well-performed under the direction of Professor Frank Grant. Capacity audiences attended the concerts at Harkness Chapel and the Cleveland Music School Settlement. One of the notable features of the concerts was their authenticity; the size of the orchestra was adapted to the nature of each of Bach's compositions.

The Orchestra was again the object of much praise when it played at Dr. Millis's inauguration on January 7 at Severance Hall. The religious fervor expressed by the tone quality of Franck's 150th Song was well-suited for the solemnity of the occasion.

THE UNIVERSITY BAND

Western Reserve football rooters enjoyed the half-time shows of the university's 50-piece Marching Band under the direction of Mr. Richard Lidrbauch. In addition to performing at all home games, the band traveled to Oxford, Ohio for the Miami game.

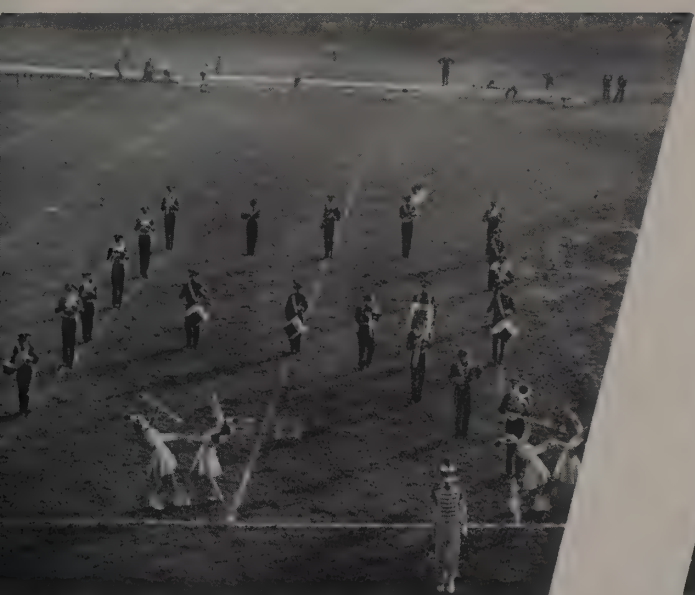

Spring semester activities of the Band included the annual All-University Concert on the weekend of April 18 at Harkness, as well as a number of light concerts at Mather. Cleveland College students heard the band in a concert May 2, at Engineer's Hall.

THE ADELBERT GLEE CLUB

The resounding male voices coming from Amasa Stone Chapel during the fall and winter months were those of the Adelbert Glee Club. Under the guidance of Professor Russell L. Gee, this group of about twenty-five members rehearses twice weekly for the Spring Concert.

The group is also called upon to sing at the holiday seasons of Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter as well as for other special occasions during the school year.

Certain factions within the group put on solos, duets, sextettes and barbershop quartettes to add variety.

THE UNIVERSITY CHOIR

Composed of many singers of exceptional ability, the University Choir this season gave outstanding service to the school community through its beautiful offerings at Thanksgiving and Christmas Vespers. These were but two of the many activities engaged in by the Choir during the course of the school year.

ACTIVITIES

The AMERICAN INSTITUTE of ARCHITECTS

The objectives of the Student Associate Branch, Cleveland Chapter, of the American Institute of Architects are to foster fellowship and to promote cooperation and a spirit of unity between students of the School of Architecture and practicing architects.

Achieving these aims through informal meetings and lectures, the students not only learn a great deal about their future profession, but also make valuable contacts. The program is further supplemented by a series of field trips.

This year one of the major projects of the student chapter was to conduct the program for one of the regular meetings of the Cleveland Chapter of the American Institute of Architects. This program featured a contest in student design.

Don't laugh, Max, someday you might be building it.

ROSTRUM

Following the traditions of the past, the Reserve Rostrum carried on its usual varied and extensive program of intercollegiate debates and forums during 1949-1950. Under the capable direction of Warren Guthrie, Robert Lang, and Gerald Phillips, the Rostrum opened the debate season with its annual series with the University of Pittsburgh. During the fall, the Rostrum played host to the Novice Debate Tournament of the Northeastern Ohio Debate Conference and participated in the annual Legislative Assembly at Oberlin, which found Reserve men as Speaker of the Assembly and Majority Leaders of two committees.

The Speakers' Bureau was reactivated this year, with the Minority Panel the most popular program among many offered. Playing the part of a good neighbor, the Rostrum held a home and home series with the University of Western Ontario in Canada during the spring term.

Highlights of the season were the Delta Sigma Rho National Debate Tournament at Madison, Wisconsin, and the annual eastern trip—this year concentrating in the area around Washington, D. C. Participating in programs before a total audience of over 15,000 persons and meeting such schools as Chicago, Princeton, the Naval Academy, Purdue, and Indiana, the Rostrum concluded a very successful season.

The Rostrum also sponsored participants in both the Civic and Northern Oratorical League contests.

Meeting every week, the Boosters' Club has been doing its utmost to promote school spirit in every activity possible. Among the firsts this group has established in its program this year were the sidewalk football banners, the half-time programs at all home basketball games, and an annual barn dance to add to the enjoyment of the members' efforts.

The group has strived to support all dances through ticket sales, decorating, and en masse attendance; it backed all WRU athletic teams at both home and out-of-town games. Several fine football rallies, including the homecoming rally and Case-Reserve rally, and cheering sections have added to the spirit of the school.

The group is striving for a membership of one representative from each campus organization; a faculty advisor, Read Kingsbury, of the University Publicity Office, was recently selected to help coordinate the Boosters' Club's efforts with the Adelbert and University Publicity Office on all sports and school events.

President: Robert Sabovick

The CAMPUS CLUB

For the many men at Western Reserve University who do not join a fraternity, Campus Club affords a splendid opportunity for participating with fellow students in campus social, athletic, and political activities.

Characterized by democratic procedures, worthy objectives, and open membership to all non-fraternity undergraduate male students, the club is rapidly achieving the position of prominence it had previous to the war.

In intramural athletics Campus Club, as always, came out on top in many events. Entering teams in all sports, Campus Club heartily encourages the participation of members in sports of their interest.

Dances, hayrides, and parties furnished the main forms of social activities this semester. In addition to these forms of recreation, the Club took an active part in student-council planned events.

Realizing that social life is an important part of college experience, Campus Club members are singularly bent on fulfilling that goal.

PHALANX

Since its appearance three years ago, Phalanx has provided the Adelbert Campus with a two party political system. A recognized campus activity, this party selected its candidates by holding open interviews and making its choice solely on the basis of merit. Serving as the main political outlet for the hundreds of unaffiliated students of the campus, Phalanx strived to place into office leaders capable of broadening the powers of student government.

This year, however, marked its last on the Reserve campus. With the withdrawal of the fraternities associated with Phalanx, it could not muster support to back a slate of candidates in the spring elections.

FOIL & MACE

Foil and Mace, the functioning fraternity political organization at Adelbert, again continued to serve the campus with student government through an intelligent choice of candidates.

Membership is composed of one voting representative from each of the member fraternities. Meetings are held regularly during the year and are open to all students interested in the organization's political action.

Both the freshman elections in the fall and the class elections last May were victories for Foil and Mace. With the apparent collapse of Phalanx, the Adelbert political scene marks the return of the all-fraternity system.

HILLEL FOUNDATION

Buffet luncheon at Hillel House

Now in its fourth year on the Reserve campus, the B'nai Brith Hillel Foundation has been growing steadily in membership and in the scope of its activities. Hillel has featured a three point program consisting of religious, social, and cultural events.

For the first time in its local history, the foundation sponsored a "Hellzapoppin" Stunt Night. Nine fraternities and sororities participated in this highly successful contest, in which Nu Zeta Nu and Phi Epsilon Pi tied for honors.

The Hillel Players were heard in a regular half-hour radio show which ran from September to January over station WLAL.

Another highlight was the inauguration of a series of biweekly Sunday afternoon fine arts programs, which offered significant movies, musicales, and the Karamu Dancers.

The Hillel Choir of twenty-five voices was heard in concerts in Cleveland, Canton, Akron, and Youngstown. Appearing in programs with the choir was the outstanding Hillel String Quartet, whose repertoire centered about works by Beethoven, Brahms, Mozart, and Haydn.

"... to deepen the spiritual and enrich the temporal lives of its members through a balanced program of religious, intellectual, and social activities."

With this as its purpose, the Newman Club fills an integral part of the Catholic student's life on the campus, with all events included in its monthly publication, THE NEEDLE; and now the club offers its new program of doctrine and philosophy courses, to correlate the University courses around a spiritual core.

Marge O'Neil, Paul Ruffier, Joanne Ritondaro, Bill Ragan, Joanne Beutler, and Jane Hanford, under the capable leadership of the officers and the able coordination of Reverend Father Paul J. Hallinan, Resident Chaplain at Newman Hall, have brought to fruition the three-fold roster of events. Outstanding dates of the year were the Student Mission, Cardinal Newman Day, Cornhuskers' Ball, Intercollegiate Stunt Nite, and 1950's Federation Convention.

THE TOWER FELLOWSHIP

Tower Fellowship is the University's inter-denominational Protestant group. It meets at the Church of the Covenant every Sunday for chapel, talks, films, and forums on a great range of subjects. The caliber of the Sunday programs attracts a large group of students from all the schools in the University Circle area as well as many young people no longer in school.

This exuberant group is busy during the week with groups in Bible study, folk dancing, music appreciation, church aid, and other interests and hobbies, as well as dances, parties, and the business of running such a large and active group.

Highlights of the year for Tower Fellowship were the Retreat in the fall, when the whole group moved to a camp for a weekend of fun and devotion; and the Tower Follies in the spring, a vaudeville production staged with an enthusiasm that made up for its lack of professional polish.

THE NEWSPAPER GUILD

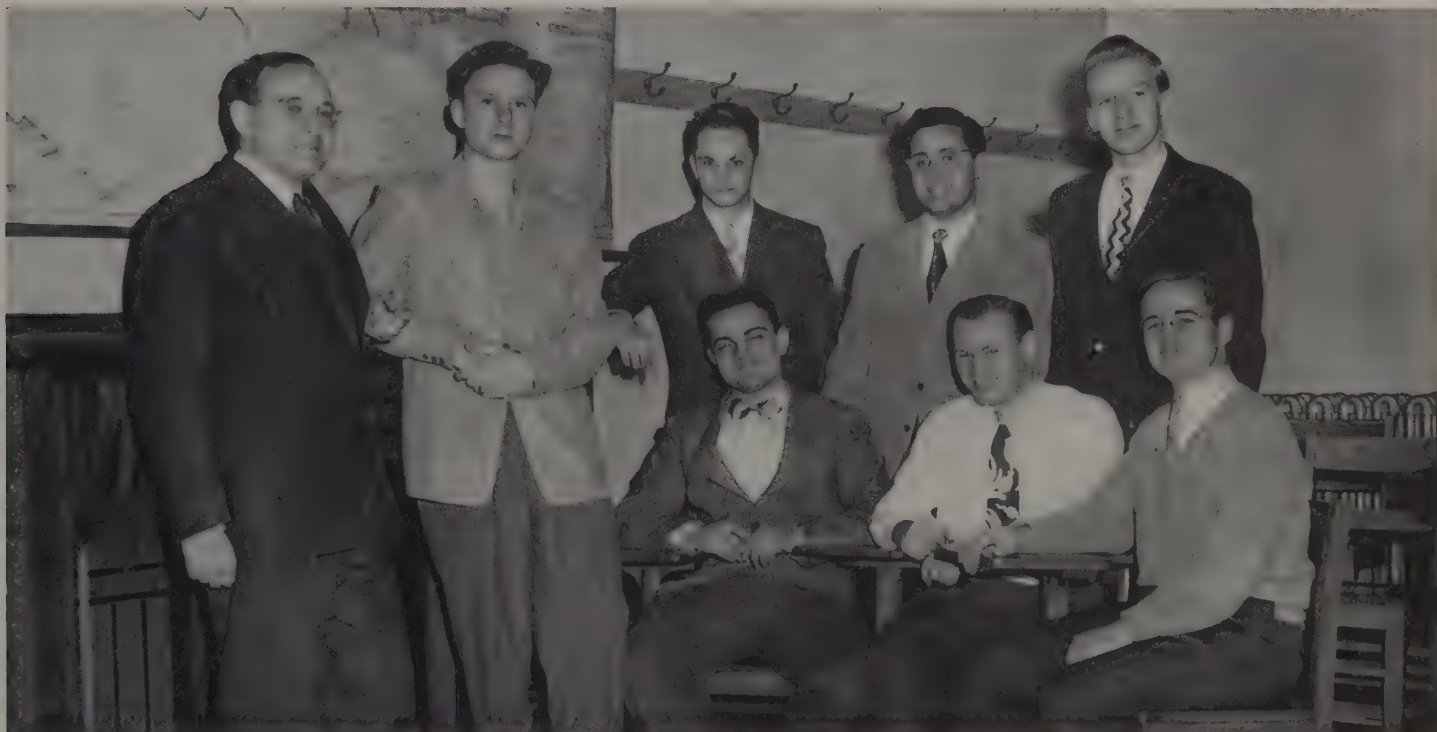

Begun early in 1949, the Modern Trends Council is one of Western Reserve's newest student organizations. Formerly known as the History Club, the Modern Trends Council provides interesting speakers, who discuss timely subjects at the meetings, which are open to the entire student body.

Adviser of the Council is Dr. Harvey Wish, nationally known authority on American history.

THE MODERN TRENDS COUNCIL

The Reserve Newspaper Guild, an associate chapter of the American Newspaper Guild, draws its members from the staffs of the Tribune, Eos, and Pulse.

The guild's program was built about social events and meetings that were designed to increase the members' understanding of the professional field of journalism. This was done through representatives of Cleveland publications.

THE VARSITY R CLUB

With the completion of its second year on campus, the Varsity R Club is being recognized as an influential Adelbert organization. Continuing its policy of emphasizing athletics and their integration in the campus activities schedule, the group worked out plans to feature dances after all basketball games. It is also attempting to standardize the size of varsity letter awards.

President-elect for 1950 was Don Foster; Andy Mavronicolas was Vice President; and Ken O'Connell, Secretary-Treasurer. Michael Scarry, head football and basketball coach of Western Reserve University, continued as adviser.

THE RADIO CLUB

"Western Reserve University presents" reads the announcer, and the Reserve Radio Club swings into action. Backbone of the organization is the Flora Stone Mather Radio Workshop, but Adelbert is also represented.

The group aims to develop talent in directing, producing, acting in, and engineering radio broadcasts through frequent appearances on Cleveland radio stations.

Frequent calls from listeners (Thank you, mother) keep their Hooper up and encourage their attempts to gain radio experience.

THE W. R. U. CHEERLEADERS

Whipping up enthusiasm at rallies and games, the Cheerleaders, backed by the Booster Club, sparked a drive to get Reserve's campus spirit out of the "streetcar college" class. Under the co-leadership of Marc Hyre and Ernie Scott, they arranged rallies and led the rooters at football and basketball games.

Because most of the leaders were seniors, a new group was chosen in the spring to carry on next year.

The Collegiate Chapter of The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was organized on the Western Reserve campus in December, 1948, by an inter-racial group of students who were interested in the problems of minority students.

NAACP feels that one means of advancing understanding among peoples is to provide a meeting ground for people of diverse cultural and religious backgrounds. With this end in view, NAACP has, from its inception, welcomed people with all backgrounds. It is not restricted to any group, but is open to any student of goodwill who sees a potential danger to society as a whole through the ills suffered by any person or persons.

The Adelbert Student Council

The Adelbert Student Council is an elected body of student officers which acts as a policy-making body on the campus. This year the council kept close control over social activities, and publications finance, and for the first time in several years came out in the black.

Playing a major role in freshman orientation, the council sponsored the September Freshman Camp and its annual Fall Mixer. It also sparked successful Homecoming and Campus Day Weekends, and other campus dances and activities.

The Architectural Student Council

The ten members of the Architecture Student Council meet regularly to determine student policies within the school.

Its activities this year included sponsorship of exhibits, dances, and lectures. It also featured an open house to which the Kent School of Architecture was invited, and at which samples of the year's work were displayed.

Nursing's student council government has welcomed another year — a progressive year! Composed of four student-elected, faculty-approved officers and two representatives from each of the three classes, the council discusses, approves, refuses, or suggests means by which the students may further programs of interest. Miss Cunningham, Miss Bunge, and Miss Erf are the faculty advisers who coordinate the meetings, held the first Wednesday of each month.

Nursing has been proud to take an active part in university and city-wide governing programs, the representatives being chosen from the council. Social events are handled through this group—from the first picnic to the last formal. They have also officially undertaken the new student orientation to nursing each September.

The Inter-Religious Council

Founded in 1947, the Inter-Religious Council aims to promote religious understanding and cooperation through common activities — educational, social, and devotional.

Meetings are attended by representatives of Newman Club, Tower Fellowship, Hillel Foundation, the chaplains of the three groups, the University Chaplain, and all other interested persons.

The Division of Intramural Sports offers students a chance to help run the broad intramural program of the Department of Education. It offers those interested in sports an opportunity to officiate in intramural games and to learn the administrative details behind the complex program.

Awards are made to managers according to the time served with the group and according to their class rank. The successful manager contributes to the service of his fellow student and enriches his own background through the experience gained.

FRATERNITIES

The Inter-fraternity Council of Western Reserve University consists of the representatives of fifteen national social fraternities and serves to co-ordinate the policies of these groups. The council's purposes are manifold—but all revolve around one primary idea, promoting greater fraternal fellowship. Serving as a spur to inter-fraternity harmony, the council encourages the fraternities to support school policies and functions and tries to improve the standings of the fraternities as a group and of the individual students within their ranks.

THE INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

Within the 1949-50 school year numerous council-sponsored open houses were held and the finest house decorations in many years were presented during Homecoming Week. The third annual Greek Week highlighted the spring season of council activities. It was marked by exchange dinners, open houses, and a festive pre-vacation atmosphere. The original hit musical, Meet Miss Delphi, held the center spotlight of the week. The show was raised to new heights by the inclusion of women in the cast.

On Campus Day, the traditional fraternity singout was the beginning of a weekend of merriment including open houses and a very enjoyable Spring Dance.

Hell Week saw pledges going wild with paint brushes as the fraternity house was completely redecorated.

But Alpha Delta Pi is not concerned solely with hilarity. The founders' desire that the fraternity "should develop the whole being—moral, social, and intellectual" is strictly adhered to. Our motto is "Many hands, one heart".

1949 saw AEPi in its own house on fraternity row on Reserve campus—its members busily renovating and painting the interior.

On the gridiron "Jumbo" Marv Kurson at tackle was big man on the defense for the Red and White, while cousin Jack Kurson did likewise for the frosh—both urged on by Cheerleader Erv Weiss. Jerry Rouby was another numeral winner, starring in freshman tennis and slated to win his letter this spring; Jack Kurson will add to the spring laurels as a member of the baseball team.

AEPi vigorously participated in all intramural sports, sing-out, and the traditional Campus Day. Phil Rockwell aided the IFC Greek Week Show as dance arranger; Einbund gained honors as a charter member of Phi Sigma Alpha, political science honorary.

Practicing its ideal that the well rounded fraternity man should maintain good grades, AEPi placed first in scholarship at Reserve and third among 59 AEPi chapters embracing 11,000 men in the United States and Canada.

Organized while Western Reserve was still located in Hudson, Beta Chapter of Beta Theta Pi is celebrating its 109th year on the campus.

It began the year with a very successful rushing season; fall also saw the addition of a television set.

Beta is represented on campus with such leaders as Fred Lafferty, president of the Sophomore Class; Bob Sabovik, president of the Boosters; Jim Bodish, Greek Week Show lead; Emil Danciu, varsity football; Micky Mitchell, varsity basketball; Ed Pientowski, manager of the Band.

Keeping the social season rolling were week-end house parties, among them a French Quarter Party. The Annual Faculty Banquet was again an outstanding success. Highpoint of the Beta social season was the Christmas Formal held at the Alcazar Hotel.

On June 22, 1844, fifteen students at Yale College founded Delta Kappa Epsilon. The organization spread rapidly throughout the East and South. The Beta Chi Chapter at Reserve was founded in 1868 at Hudson, Ohio. DKE now has fifty chapters located throughout the United States and Canada. Famous alumni include nineteen university presidents, seven of whom are leading outstanding New England colleges.

The Dekes, as usual, were well represented on the various campus activities. Bud Maeder held down a position on the varsity football team while Lou Gillespie played for the recently formed soccer team. Dick Wolcott helped the Band out in the '49 season and George Keith was a cheerleader. Roads, Bowler, and Gillespie were active on the Tribune.

The social program consisted of weekly parties at the house, the highlight of which was the Annual Deke Formal, held at the Aurora Country Club, December 17, 1949.

The Delts started off the fall season by winning the Homecoming House Decorations Cup and by taking the runner-up spot with their "King for a Day" Homecoming Float.

For their social entertainment, the Delts travelled this fall with hayrides and parties at Camp Ho Mita Koda and "Ma" Snyder's. They topped off their winter program with a cocktail party and formal dance at the Tudor Arms Hotel. House parties featured Wild West and Bowery themes, among others.

Having ended last year's intramural sports program by winning the softball and golf championships, the Delts started out this year by capturing both A and B League football championships and the B League volleyball trophy.

In campus politics are Bill Shew, Sophomore Class Student Council Representative; and Bob Harris, Senior Class Veep. Paul Mathews leads the Delts in publication work as circulation manager of the Tribune.

The Delts are represented in varsity football by Tom Cole, quarterback, Don "Kitten" Hura, and Ed Johnston; Gene Krug, Dick Everhard, and Bill Shew will carry the Delt colors into varsity basketball this year while Bob Paterson and Bob Rokos will lead the track squad. Al Oldenburg and Hal Engel were also active this year in soccer and fencing respectively.

The first chapter of Delta Upsilon was organized at Williams College in 1834 as a protest against secret societies which were dominating the campus. Although the hostile attitude toward secret cliques is now almost nil, emphasis is still placed on the non-secret nature of the fraternity.

Delta Upsilon continues to grow and is now one of the largest national fraternities in the United States and Canada. The Western Reserve Chapter was founded in 1851 as the fifth of the present sixty-eight.

The fraternity is well represented this year in athletic circles. On the football team—Leo Spann (All Big Four end for the past two years), Tom Cooper, Bill Morgan, Jerry Krasovec, and Tony Ventresca. On the baseball squad—Spann, Koubek, Garapic, and Cookson. In basketball—Tom Cooper and Don Grover as the managers. In track—Jim Zimmerman.

After the redecorating of the DU house many good parties were thrown on the weekends. The highlight of the year was the Christmas formal held in the Jade Room of the Fenway Hall Hotel.

Alpha Nu Zeta, Reserve's branch of Lambda Chi Alpha, the nation's largest fraternity, continued its domination of the University's intramural sports activities and retired the "All Sports Trophy" last year.

On the football varsity from Lambda Chi were Capt. Bob Nolf, Chuck Swann, Bob Nader, Jim Barnacle, and Jack White — captain elect for 1950.

Nineteen men were pledged this year, joining such outstanding actives as Prexy John Farmakidis, Bob Hiatt, Ev. Bratcher, Ralph Kirk, Joe Zluchowski, John Franco, and Bill Kearney.

The social season, par usual, was terrific! It has contained many star-studded parties in its galaxy, including a Sadie Hawkins day affair that began in Dogpatch and ended in Cleveland; a beautiful Christmas Party for the Children's Aid Home; and a "Roxy-fied" pledge party. The chief highlights, however, were the annual Christmas Formal at the Park Lane Villa and the Spring Formal. Along with the social events the Lambda Chi's found time to paint and redecorate their house on Fraternity Row.

OMEGA PSI PHI

With membership open to qualified students regardless of race, creed, and religion, Omega Psi Phi practices its belief in the spirit of the brotherhood of man. Since its founding in 1911 at Howard University, Washington, D.C., this ideal has guided the fraternity until today it numbers over 200 graduate and undergraduate chapters in this country.

Another policy of the fraternity is emphasis on civic responsibility in addition to activity in school affairs.

1950 will mark the graduation of Clemmons and Williams from Cleveland College; Benbow, Holmes, and Waller are a part of Adelbert's '50 class.

The fraternity members years with W.R.U. have been quite fruitful, and we thank all of our professors and schoolmates for the tremendous contribution they have made to our education.

It is our sincere hope that the next crop of Omega men will pick up the threads of our endeavors and surge forward to make for themselves and Omega a place of honor in the annals of Adelbert.

Fourth Row: N. Turoff, G. Krebs, E. Katz, F. Lieberman, L. Goldman.

The Phi Eps started the fall social season by being collectively "married" to their dates at a Sadie Hawkins party at the house. The ceremony was performed by Marryin' Norm Nehamkin and his fiancée, guest of honor. Marshall "The Voice" Conn wore out his vocals on "Because" and "O Promise Me."

Many get togethers were held around the new TV set, pride of the men. Kukla, Fran, and Ollie and Milton Berle are being considered for honorary membership.

The height of the social calendar was reached at the Winter Candlelight Ball, thanks to the plans of the Social Chairman, Al Jacoby, in securing the Allerton and Hal Lynn's men.

The study rooms were done over in beautiful colors, redecorations including paintings by Is. Brown.

House manager, Mel Drucker, has to use grappling hooks to keep "Shondor" Bernstein off the phone so Franz Lieberman can get in his nightly calls to pin-mate in Syracuse. Gill Krebs and Herb Feigenbaum fight for the piano.

On campus Ave Froimson represents the house as Secretary of the IFC, business manager of the Greek Week Show, and All-

University Council Representative. Bill Greene serves as treasurer of Foil and Mace; Lew Fauenthal and Newt Turoff play in the band; the Miller twins are in Rostrum.

Xi Deuteron concluded its rushing week with a banquet prepared by the Mothers' Club for alumni, actives, and rushees in the Carriage House. This was followed next morning by pinning White Stars on twenty-three men representing a cross-section of the freshmen at Adelbert.

With the help of the new men, the fraternity went on to win the Homecoming Float Trophy and attain intramural honors throughout the year.

The winter social season reached its peak at the Christmas Formal at Pine Ridge Country Club.

The Black Diamonds of the Fijis have glistened in many activities on the campus. Don Foster has led the way as president of the Student Council and a member of Omicron Delta Kappa. Other active Fijis are: Castilla, Morhard, Lekson, and Schultz on the football squad; Berry and Henry as "cagers"; Gilbert and B. Smith, wrestling; Hallock and Burton in the Undergraduate Review, Three Men on a Horse; "Senator Jim" Smith on Debate Team; as well as many brothers in publications, and freshmen in every sport and activity from football to the Glee Club.

Phi Sigma Delta, ever since its birth in 1912 at Columbia University, has had a policy of taking part in campus activities. Kappa Chapter, founded at Reserve in 1920, follows this same pattern. Fred Markowitz is president of Phalanx. Other activities are represented in Phi Sig by Harvey Yasinow, president of the Reserve Rostrum and a member of ODK; Bob Sperber, on the editorial staff of Pulse; and Bob Stern, Circulation Manager of Pulse. The varsity wrestling and fencing teams are represented by Bob Fox and Tom Kaplan, respectively. Gary Goldsmith and Marv Feldman manage the varsity basketball and tennis teams.

Phi Sig has at least two organized social affairs every month and the house is always open for impromptu parties and gatherings of Phi Sig men and their friends.

Thanks to the social chairman, Shelly Spielman, the winter formal at the Park Lane Villa and the other social functions were a success.

This year Bernice Lansat, Phi Sig's candidate was elected ODK Queen at the annual ODK Blue Key Dance.

The Pi Kaps started a most successful year with a fresh coat of paint on their chapter residence at 11429 Glenwood Avenue. The ranks of the fraternity were augmented by the addition of twenty pledges.

In campus activities Pi Kappa Alpha was well represented in elective offices with Cy Dostil as president of the Freshman Class and Ray Smith as president of Foil and Mace.

The more athletic members of the chapter, under the guidance of Ed Kenney, were runners-up in the B League football championship.

Halloween found the Pi Kaps enjoying a festive party centered around their new recreation room and bar.

Concluding the holiday spirit was a Christmas formal at the Allerton Hotel. New Year's Eve brought the inevitable New Year's Eve party.

The alumni enjoyed a delicious turkey dinner at the Case-Reserve smoker and thrilled the actives with further plans for a new chapter house.

Beta Eta Chapter of Sigma Chi is the only fraternity in this country drawing its members from two universities. They have operated successfully at Reserve and Case since 1909.

Despite the fact that only one-half the chapter functions on the Reserve Campus, the Sigs are well represented in the Band, the Trib, intramurals, and Reserve politics.

The social calendar has been full for the Sigs during the past year. Their new bar was opened last spring with a spirited Bowery party. A formal Casino party was featured this fall. Weekends were filled with the usual beer parties.

Mrs. Mac, the Sigs venerable house mother, prepared the buffet suppers and exchange dinners for which she is noted.

The climax of the winter social season was the annual Sweetheart formal at the Park Lane Villa. Miss Lillian Massey was crowned as the Sigs Sweetheart of 1950. Manikeke Country Club was the scene of the spring formal.

Zeta Beta Tau, with 46 chapters in the United States and Canada, was founded in 1898 at the City College of New York. Since coming to the Reserve campus in 1909, the chapter has risen in both status and membership. A new home, one of the campus's most elegant, was purchased in September at 11327 Bellflower Rd.

The Zeta Betes have a controlling interest in the literary B.M.O.C.'s. The Tribune is headed by Irv Gray, editor; and Les Tarr, business manager. Hauser is associate editor of the same publication; Shaber and Polshek are editor and business manager respectively of the Pulse; Larry Lichtig is business manager of the EOS and Braun is managing editor.

There are seven men in ODK, of which Bob Gandal is president, and Don Kalish is secretary. Rostrum claims eight ZBT's, including Dave Shaber, who is a member of Delta Sigma Rho honorary. Kalish is president of IFC, and Polshek is secretary of the Junior Class. Ernie Klein is secretary of the Freshman Class. The IFC Greek Week show, Meet Miss Delphi, was written by Shaber and Tarr.
